"Our Man"

The Bluejay Staff would like to dedicate the 1977 annual to Mr. Gerald "Gabe" Shineman. Mr. Shineman has devoted twelve years of his life to the Rock Port R-II School system. He received his B.S. in business and teaching certificates in social studies and physical education from Tarkio College in 1962. In 1970 he earned a Master's Degree in administration from Northwest Missouri State University. He was awarded a Specialist's Degree in administration from the University of Missouri at Columbia in August of 1977.

After graduating from Tarkio College, Mr. Shineman taught in the Westboro schools from 1962 to 1965. He taught social studies and P.E. and was also head coach of all junior high and high school sports. His teaching career in Rock Port began in 1965. For two years he was PE instructor and head coach of boys' football, track and girls' basketball. During the 1967-68 school year he was elementary principal as well as head football coach. In 1968 he was promoted to junior-senior high school principal and has held that position since then.

Mr. Shineman and his wife Juanita have three children; Steve, Patty, and Julie, (all graduates of Rock Port High School) and one granddaughter, Jill. Mr. Shineman is leaving RPHS to take over as superintendent of Stanbury R-II schools. He commented that, "The thing I've probably enjoyed most has been the cooperation of the kids at Rock Port, not only as students, but as friends."

Gabe Shineman has given twelve years of hard work and service to our school. Many improvements have been made during the time he has served as principal. For this, we are deeply grateful. We want to wish him the best of luck in the future. He will be greatly missed by the students who worked with him and will always hold a place in their hearts.

Leadership With Pride

The school board was kept busy trying to work out a budget while keeping abreast of the many school activities. Many improvements were made because of the hard work of these concerned citizens. Jess Omohundro served as President. The other officers were: Don Mobley, Vice-President; Jennie Howell, Secretary; and Paul Tiemeyer, Treasurer. At right. Jennie listens closely. Below left: Comparing notes. Below right: Frank Rybnick, Superintendent of schools.

Administration Fearless Leaders

The Rock Port R-2 School System was well run with a fine team of administrators. They each had a full load of work, but they were never too busy to help students with any individual problems they might have had. At top left: Mr. Gerald Shineman, High School Principal and his secretary Mrs. Kathy Bogenreif. Center left: Mr. Steve Scamman, Administrative Assistant and COE Director; center right: Mrs. Betty Thomas, High School Teachers' Aide. Lower left: Mr. Frank Rybnick, Superintendent of Schools and his secretary Mrs. Jennie Howell; lower right: Mrs. Wilma Grubb, Elementary Principal (standing) and her secretary Mrs. Joan Adamson (seated).

Expanding Knowledge

The language arts, speech, and composition were taught by Mrs. Barbara Marquart and Ms. Dixie Glascock. Comp. I, II, and III, plus Language Arts I and Literature II were all instructed by Mrs. Marquart. Here composition classes concentrated on correct sentence structure, vocabulary, outlines, and writing good paragraphs and essays. Language Arts I was a class for the freshmen. They studied the basic parts of speech, spelling, punctuation, and sentence structure. Literature II concentrated on short stories.

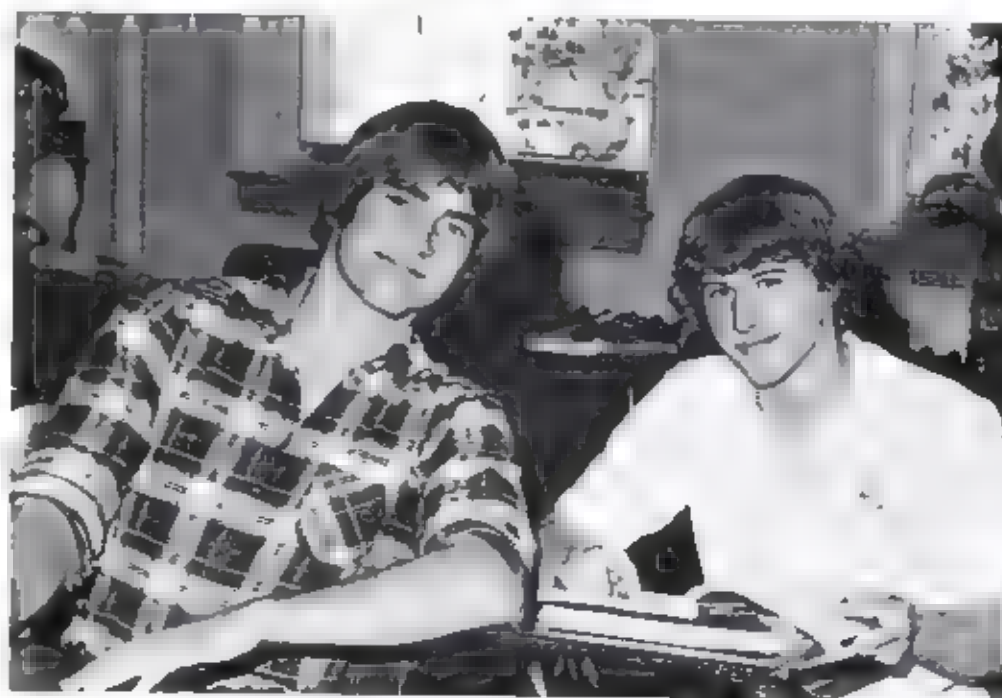

Ms. Glascock taught Speech I, Lit I, III, and IV, drama, and Language Arts I. The speech students learned how to prepare short speeches as well as developing their ability to communicate clearly with other people. Lit I was a study of the fundamentals of literature. The Lit III and IV classes studied novels, plays, and poems. Drama students learned about the history of the theatre as well as modern theatrical practices. At right: Mrs. Marquart has a good day.

Another day in Consumer Education.

Mrs. Jo Tarp's Home Economics classes had a full year. The Home Ec. I classes sewed, cooked, worked on personal development and money management, and constructed children's books. Home Ec. II was an extension of Home Ec. I. These students increased their knowledge of household appliances and planned a kitchen. Child Development class was basically the study of children from before birth to age six. Consumer Ed. planned budgets, how to spend and borrow money, and how to use a lawyer. Marriage and Family Living studied dating, marriage, children, and divorce. Advanced Clothing designed and made their own outfit. An in depth study of foreign, meatless, and guest foods was included in Advanced Foods. These students also worked on nutrition and disease. At right: Whitney pins her pattern.

Math + Work = Fun

Mr. Wayne Moore returned to teach the high school math classes after a years absence. The classes offered were Algebra, Geometry, Advanced Algebra, Trigonometry, and Physics. These students had homework assignments almost daily and quizzes and tests periodically. On free days they played math games. At right: A tough problem.

Science Registers Mixed Reactions

The science classes offered this year were physical science, biology, chemistry, and advanced biology. Physical science studied various properties of the earth and did some work with the metric system. The biology students studied the bodily functions and the organs of worms, frogs, starfish, clams, and fetal pigs. Chemistry extended the knowledge of the things they learned in physical science and did a lot of work with acids, bases, and salts. Advanced biology was the study of the human body. They also dissected sharks and cats. Mr. George Radtke taught these classes.

Crossing Borders

French and Spanish were offered as Foreign Language classes this year. The students studied and practiced the basic pronunciation patterns. Understanding the spoken words, reading, writing, and speaking were also introduced.

The study of culture was also an important part of the classroom study. Cultural projects included the study of foreign holidays, singing songs in foreign languages, craft projects (paper mache and pinatas) discussion of famous personalities, and learning proverbs and customs. French and Spanish classes were taught by Mrs. Jackie Miller. At right: Decorations from Spanish fiestas.

Study! Study! Study!

Creative Learning

The instrumental music classes were taught by Mr. Ken Greiner. He was responsible for Elementary Band, Junior High Band, High School Band, and Music Appreciation. Mrs. Lynn Hunter instructed the Junior High and High School Choruses as well as the Swing Choir. The Junior High and High School art classes were taught by Miss Amy Freeman. The main project for these students this year was redecorating the art room. Above: Amy's story time. Center left: clean up can sure be messy. Below: Mrs. Hunter. Isn't she happy???

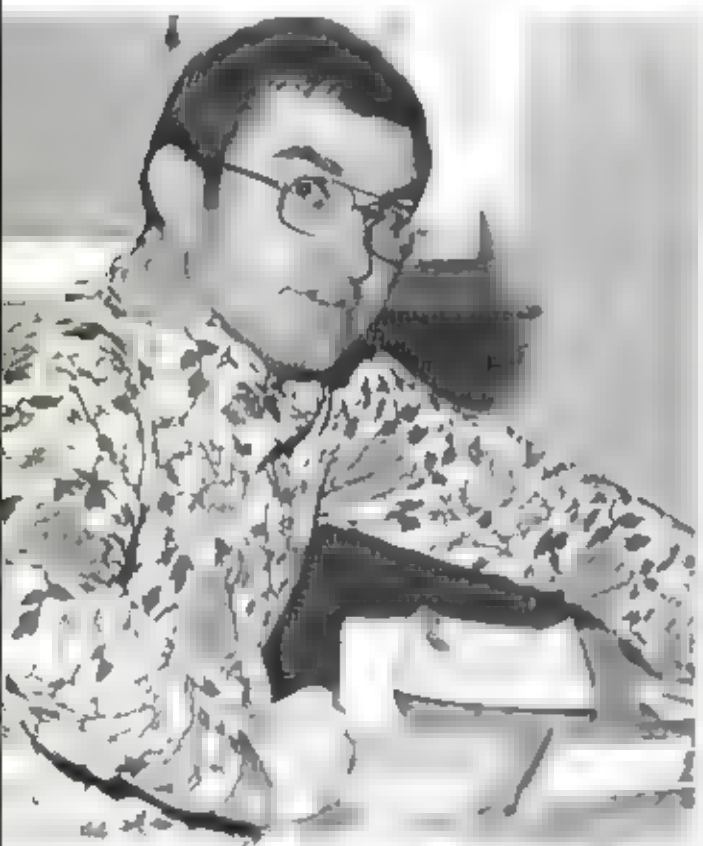

Exploring Life Through History

The history classes were taught by Mr. Gene Finke. Students learned about the United States as well as world history. Mr. Finke also taught Decisions and Civics. These classes were designed to help students organize their lives after high school. Mr. Mark Dulgarian taught Sociology, Psychology, Geography, and American Government. These classes took Field trips along with their regular classroom work. At right: Mr. Mark Dulgarian.

Learning and Earning

The Cooperative Occupational Education had thirteen students enrolled this year. They studied employment aspects such as job applications, job interviews, resignations, employer-employee relations, promotions. They had films almost weekly on job availability. The students were required to work at least ten hours a week. Two hours during the school day were allowed, but most students also worked after school and on weekends. Top right, students enrolled in COE were, Row 1, left to right: R. Shineflew, B. Cooper, S. Case, P. Brooks, T. Taylor, Row 2: E. Spurlin, J. Barnhart, S. Deckard, D. Cook. Row 3: R. Mullins, M. Daugherty, C. Viets, G. Markham. At left: Sheila displays one of her floral arrangements.

Working for Tomorrow

The Industrial Arts classes had a busy year. Mr. Raymond Eickhoff (pictured center right), instructed junior high and high school students in drafting, woodworking, and general shop. His students made projects from leather, various types of wood, and metals. Mr. John McClaron (pictured lower right), helped the carpentry class construct a house. This is the fifth year this project has been undertaken. The boys worked hard for three hours every day of the school year and completed a fine home.

Lee puts finishing touches on ceiling.

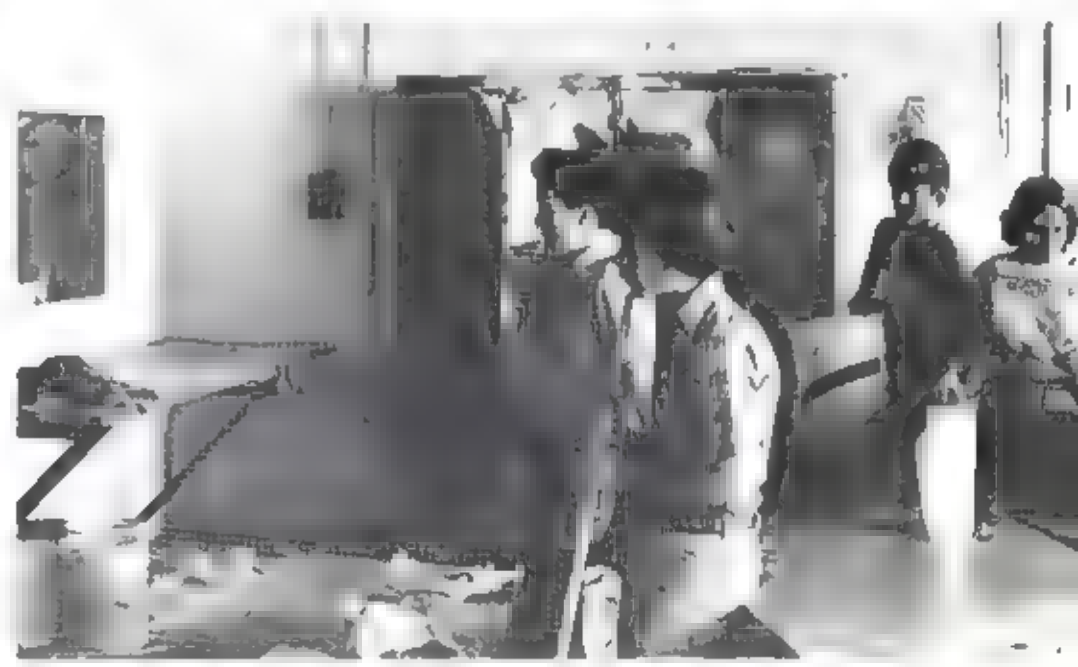

Mr. John Pearce's Ag and shop classes had a busy year. Ag I studied the history and purposes of FFA, welding, wood-working, and animal sciences. Ag II worked on identification and judging of Field crops and weed seeds, meat judging, welding and wood projects, learning how to use power equipment, and soil characteristics. Ag III was basically a class on Farm management. The students studied livestock crops, chemicals, and Fertilizers, and planned a farm. Mr. Pearce's semester Ag classes were Small Gas Engines and Shop Construction.

The Ag teams participating in district contest and their ratings were: Field Crops, I; Soils, I; Poultry, I; Meats, I; Horticulture, I; Livestock, I. The teams that went to state ag contest and their ratings were: Field Crops, III; Soils, II; Horticulture, unclassified; Livestock, II. At left: The Great Cook.

Mrs. Runkles, Business Instructor.

A Special Type of Business

Bookkeeping I and II and basic business were taught by Mrs. Diana White. In the bookkeeping classes, students learned how to keep accurate records for merchandising and service businesses. The advanced class studied partnerships and corporations. The basic business class studied such useful things as the free enterprise system, communication, advertising, banking, buying a car, and job applications.

Mrs. Kathy Runkles taught students shorthand, clerical office practice and typing. The girls enrolled in shorthand learned the basics and spent the rest of the year developing their speed. COP concentrated on learning how to operate various office machines, improving typing skills, learning to file, and working in an office simulation situation. Typing students were kept busy learning basic fundamentals and using these skills to type up various kinds of jobs.

Typing I works on Jobs.

Fun and Fitness

The girls' P.E. classes were held first semester. They were instructed by Ms. Cheri Hodges. The girls did various activities such as playing volleyball and speedball, bowling, and working on gymnastic equipment. The boys' physical education classes were taught by Mr. Mike Rader (at left) during the second semester. The boys played dodgeball, badminton, and basketball.

Driver Education was instructed by Mr. Duane Smith. The students learned the basic driving skills as well as how to care for automobiles. Mr. Smith and Mr. Mark Dulgarian also taught the health classes.

Special Extras

The reading classes were taught by Mrs. Sharon O'Laughlin. This was an individualized program designed to help students improve all basic reading skills, with an emphasis on vocabulary and comprehension, and to encourage reading for pleasure. Mrs. Carol Harmon instructed the ungraded students. They studied the basic math, science, reading, language, and history subjects, as well as working on special projects throughout the year. Above left: John Gross works on reading comprehension. Below right: Mrs. Harmon helps with a math assignment.

Helping Out

Mrs. Burke looks up prices on new books.

Once again the students of Rock Port High School were blessed with a fine staff of specially trained personnel. Ms. Janet Conboy (top left) served as junior high and high school guidance counselor. She assisted students in scheduling classes, working out personal and school-related problems, and planning their careers. Mrs. Betty Burke was the Librarian for elementary and high school. She was kept busy ordering new books and sending out over-due book notices. Taking care of all the students many ailments was Mrs. Beverly Stewart, R.N. She also kept records on the weight, height, sight, and hearing of all the students.

The Indispensables

The staff of cooks provided hot meals for students five days a week. They tried to provide a balanced diet as well as prepare food the students would enjoy. Above left: Sylvia Clodfelter, head cook. Lunch time, a fun time for all.

Hard Workers

The school personnel on this page had a busy year. The custodial staff was responsible for keeping the entire school clean. Beside this they also did painting jobs, yard work, and repaired broken windows. The school bus drivers transported students to and from school daily. In addition to this, they provided rides for extra-curricular activities to other towns. Above right: Duane Thiesfield and Walt Milsaps. At left: Royal Harmon and Charles Lorenz. Busy, Busy, Busy!

They're off—on their road to education. In their first experience in formal education, the Kindergarten students learn phonics, math, reading readiness, science and social studies. Many activities such as films, records, reading centers, arts, crafts, music and physical education are offered to the children by their teachers Mrs. Suzanne Fentiman and Mrs. Charlene Steele.

Patrick Bennington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bennington, was killed in a boating accident on October 3, 1976. Patrick was born on August 31, 1971 and lived all of his life in Rock Port. He was an active young boy who loved the out of doors. Patrick will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

Kindergarten They're Off

First Marching On

First Graders work very hard at learning to sound out vowels and consonants. Then they apply this knowledge in pronunciation of new words. Learning to read is one of the biggest events of the year.

Some of the special units the children cover are: fire prevention, zoo animals, Christmas customs, telephone usage, good citizenship, and children in Africa. First graders make many booklets concerning units being studied and use games, stories, and work papers to help make learning more fun. This year the first grade was divided into three classes taught by Mrs. Janet Griffin, Mrs. Elaine Krieger, and Mrs. Deanna Whitford.

Second Moves On

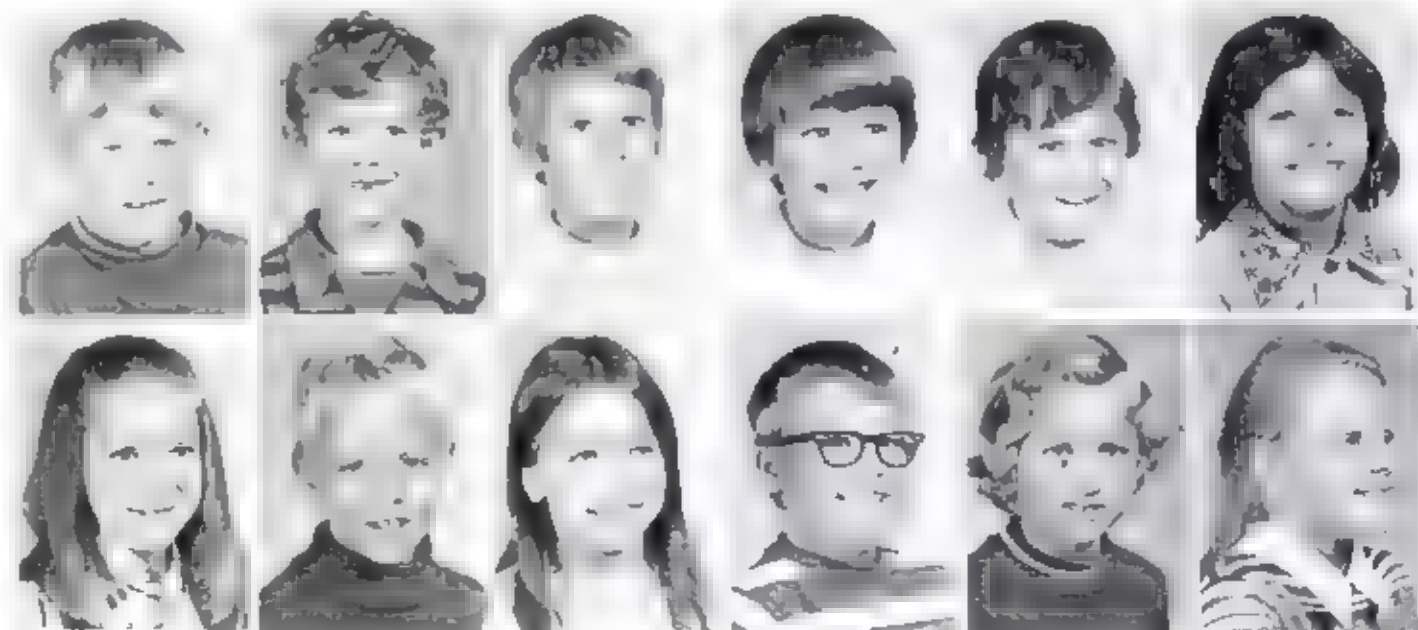

The second graders were busy throughout the year improving reading and math skills. They wrote creative stories and rhymes and were introduced to cursive writing. Science classes were quite exciting with many experiments being performed with batteries, air, and magnets. The special social studies unit was "Families of Long Ago." The teachers, Mrs. Jane Nigh and Mrs. Dorothy Peck were kept busy frying flannel cakes which the children enjoyed eating with butter they had churned themselves.

This being an election year, the fourth graders had many ideas and activities pertaining to national politics. They studied the basic three R's. In addition the fourth graders had "special" units such as U.S. Government, Missouri History, Rain Forests, Deserts, Electricity, and Sound. The classes were instructed by Mrs. LaVona Reid and Mrs. Anna Gervais.

Sixth Anchors Away

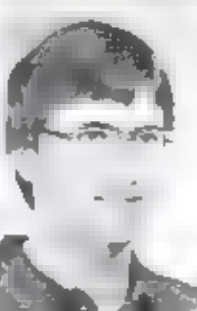

The sixth graders were taught by Ms. Kathy Stratman and Mr. Richard Whitford. They had some very exciting activities including writing Haiku poems, performing plays concerning historic American History, and a bulletin board contest at Christmas. They studied throughout the year these science units: Metric System, Atoms and Molecules, and Magnetism and Electricity. Thanks to the preparations made by their teachers, the sixth grade students should be ready to move into the routine of Junior High next year. At left: David Lloyd, hard at his schoolwork?

Merry Music Makers

The elementary music classes did a variety of interesting things this year. They were taught by Miss Kathryn Parks. They learned the basics of music besides doing some harmony work. The sixth grade band was directed by Mr. Ken Greiner. They learned the fundamentals of their instruments besides how to properly care for them. At left: Miss Parks sings along.

Seventh grade at last! A realm of new activities and experiences: organizations, sports, and seven teachers each day instead of one. Is Junior High as exciting as was expected? For most of the seventh graders, it was. At last they felt closer to High School. The officers were, Row 1: Margee Bogenreif, President; Becky Groff, Vice-President; Kimberly Scamman, Secretary; Row 2: Susan Thompson, Treasurer; Stacy Tudor and Brook Cooper, Student Council.

Eighth Takes the Lead

Eighth graders—the upper classmen of the Junior High. This year they took the initiative in sports and organizations. They increased their educational levels with the help of the fine staff of Junior High faculty. The class of '81 is eagerly waiting their freshman year when they can become more involved in the activities at R.P.H.S.

Little Mean Machines

The Junior High Bluejays coached by Tony Gaines and Bill Runkles had an undefeated 1976 season with a record of 4-0. The team worked hard to achieve this record. Because of the excellent coaching and their own determination, these boys should be good prospects for the high school team in future years. Center right: Coach Gaines discusses techniques.

Jr. Jay Roundballers

Coach Tony Gaines' Junior High boys basketball team finished the 1976-77 season with a winning 8-4 record. The boys also won the third place trophy at the West Nodaway Tournament. Due to the boys hard work and the good coaching they have received they should make some fine high school basketball players. At left: Randy dribbles on.

Jr. High Hopefuls

This year's Junior High girls basketball team ended the season with a 10-2 record in the conference. They also brought home the third place trophy from the South Holt Tournament. The girls worked hard during practices to achieve this record. Their coach, Tony Gaines, should have some fine hopefuls for his high school team. At right: Carrie drives hard. Talented Musicians

The Junior High music department increased greatly in size during this school year. The Chorus was directed by Mrs. Lynn Hunter. This year the band, under the direction of Mr. Ken Greiner, was separated into the two different classes for rehearsals. Both groups performed at two concerts. The band marched at one of the home football games. Frolicking Freshman

The class of '80 had many new experiences as Freshman. At last they could participate in High School organizations and activities. They were allowed many privileges, such as the use of the student council, student center, and many others. The schoolwork was more difficult than it was in Junior High days. This years Freshman did a fine job of adjusting. Pictured on the opposite page, lower left, are the class officers. Jive'n Juniors

The Junior class had their busiest year yet. Their first big event was the production of their class play. Throughout the athletic seasons they provided refreshments at the Junior Stand. They planned, organized, and put together the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. Beside all this, the class of '78 still found time to be active in sports and organizations. Pictured top right on the opposite page are the leaders of the class. Blue Jay Football Homecoming '76 was observed on October 8. The Jays gave an all-out effort, but were defeated by the Fairfax Bulldogs, 20-0. Julie Jochim and Dan McMahon were crowned king and queen at the conclusion of the game to reign over the festivities. The music for the dance was provided by the "The Natch." "Don't Drink the Water"

The Junior class play, "Don't Drink the Water," was a comedy about a typical American Family who is seeking assylum in the embassy of a communist country. They are forced to live with a crazy priest, a dingy ambassador's son, and a nervous chef. In the end, as always, good conquers bad, and the Hollanders accomplished their goal of escaping.

Prom '77 Tropical Paradise

The Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet was Saturday, May 14. Members of the junior class spent the week before decorating the Memorial Building for the dance. The theme was "Tropical Paradise." The banquet was held at the Coach House. Everyone kept the sophomore servers busy with memory book deliveries and requests for food and drinks. The music at the dance was provided by Legend. Pictures were taken in front of a miniature tropical island. Above: It was a fun night! At bottom right: The sponsors had fun!

FTA Starts Out

This was the first year Rock Port High School had a chapter of Future Teachers of America. The purpose of the club was to give students an idea of the responsibilities and duties involved in a teaching career. Members assisted elementary and junior high teachers in their classroom work to get some experience. FTA also had a bake sale to raise some money. Below: Kym helps out in a junior high science class.

Learning to Do!

The Rock Port Chapter of the Future Farmers of America had a very active year. They sold 1,174 boxes of fruit in their annual fund-raising project. Some of their other activities were a watermelon bust, a skating party, and a mountain oyster supper. They sponsored the FFA-FHA Barnwarming. Julie Jochim and Mike Cooper reigned as queen and king over this event. Their Parent-Member Banquet was held at the end of the year. All the chapter awards were presented at this time. Officers above left, left to right: Mr. Pearce, Jeff Houts—President, David Stanford—Vice-President, Marlene Walter—Treasurer, Kevin Cohen—Secretary, Gerry Markham—Reporter, Rick Debuhr—Sentinel, Jerry Sutter—Student Council.

Bridging the Gap

The 1976-77 Student Council, under the leadership of Student Body President Marlene Walter, had a very busy year. Besides sponsoring the football homecoming dance and the Christmas Ball they helped in the formation of a new organization at Rock Port High School—a girls' R-Club. Student Council also helped in making decisions about school policies and school-sponsored organizations.

Girl's R-Club

This was the first year the female athletes at R.P.H.S. had a chance to become members of a letter club. Any girl who lettered once in any sport was eligible to join. They sponsored a very successful "Anything Goes" to raise some money. The boys' and girls' track teams competed against the faculty. The students won $68 \frac{1}{2}$ - $54 \frac{1}{6}$. They held an initiation for six new members late in the school year and had a pizza party afterwards. Pep Club yells them on Cheerleaders pause for a hello.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleading squads cheered the RPHS Athletes to many victories this year. They prepared humorous skits for pep assemblies during the football and basketball seasons. Both squads attended the Cheerleading Clinic at Maryville, Missouri, in June. The Varsity girls won four blue ribbons and one white. The Junior Varsity cheerleaders won four red ribbons and one white. Both squads brought the spirit stick home. These eleven girls should be congratulated on all the work they did this year to promote spirit among the students.

Vocal Supporters

Pep Club's main responsibility is boosting spirit within the athletic teams and the entire school. Our Pep Club did an outstanding job of this. Whether the teams were winning or losing the girls yelled their hardest. They attended every varsity football and basketball game. Sometimes the girls were a little worse for the wear the following day, but it didn't matter. They enjoyed supporting their teams.

Keeping the Act Together

This organization consisted of some very enterprising students who were interested in bettering the high school drama department. The Speech and Drama Club had their annual pie sale in the fall to help finance their activities. Besides holding monthly meetings, the members also aided in the production of the Junior Play. For the third year, Speech and Drama Club sponsored a kissing booth at the Mardi Gras. Many of the members attended Speech Contest in March. At the end of the year a banquet was held to install next year's officers and present members with their point cards.

Book Guardians

The hard working group of librarians performed various duties in the high school library, such as checking out and shelving books, dusting shelves, filing periodicals, and helping students with the facilities in the Learning Resource Center. They also provided interesting bulletin boards for both the elementary and high school libraries. The girl's main activity this year was sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins Dance. The Librarians had a new duty this year, because over-due fees were charged to the students for not returning their books on time. The officers are pictured at bottom from left to right: Kathy Cohen, President; Jeannette Mulvania, Vice-President; Sue Buck, Secretary; Julie Walter, Treasurer; Marvetta Leseberg, Student Council; and Betty Burke, Sponsor. Hard at Work

This was the fourth year for French Club at Rock Port High School. To raise money at the beginning of the year, the members held a bake sale. Le club Francais main project of the year was sponsoring the fourth annual Mardi Gras. They used the proceeds from this to take a field trip to Omaha, NE., and eat at the Golden Apple French restaurant. The club also had a special meeting at the end of the year with French snacks to thank everyone who helped with the production of the Mardi Gras. We Sing the Songs

This year the high school Swing Choir made many additions. The most important one was their name—"Harmony." They bought new costumes and constructed wooden boxes so they could have more detailed choreography. "Harmony" attended the Swing Choir Clinic at NWMSU and received a "I" rating. They also performed at several churches and for various community groups. Above are the members of Harmony, Row 1 left to right: J. Barnhart, Mrs. Hunter—Director, J. Jones. Row 2: D. Hudson, P. High Steppers

The Marching Bluejays had a very successful year. Besides performing at all home football games, the band under the direction of Ken Greiner, attended two competitions. They received the first place trophy at the Oregon Harvest Festival and first place Class "S" trophy at NWMSU Homecoming. The Bluejays also won the over-all championship traveling trophy at Maryville. Leading the band was Drum Major Kathy Cohen (center left). A Team With Desire

The Rock Port Jays had a disappointing season with a record of 2-8. The boys faced a lot of very tough competition in the 275 Conference this year. The team underwent many changes with the addition of the new head coach, Mike Rader. Assistant coaches this year were Wayne Moore and Gene Finke.

The eight seniors receiving letters were: Rick Hendrickson, Jeff Houts, Bob Kennell, Lee Lingerfelt, Dan McMahon, David Stanford, Andy Stoner, and Jerry Sutter. Next year Coach Rader will have ten returning junior lettermen, ten sophomores and two freshmen.

Brute Strength

Rock Port wrestling was in its third year as a varsity sport. The team was once again coached by Mark Dulgarian. The varsity squad finished the year with a 6-6 record. The boys put in many long hours of practice sweating off those extra pounds to make their weights.

Terry Heard who wrestled at 132 pounds, got fourth place at the district meet and placed sixth in the state in his weight class.

Basketball's Best

The Varsity and Junior Varsity girls coached by Tony Gaines both had winning seasons. Varsity's record was 11-9. They brought home the second place trophy from the Mound City Tournament and Third place trophy from the Fairfax Tournament. The girls finished second in the 275 Conference. The Junior varsity had a season record of 8-2. They won the first place trophy in the B-team tournament at Rock Port.

Running and Working Well Together

The boys' track team had a busy season. Besides placing tenth in the Blue Jay Relays, they took top honors at several other track meets. One member of the squad, Brian Ebert, attended the state track meet. He was entered in the 880 yard run. The team was coached by Duane Smith and assisted by Mike Rader.

The Tracksters

This year the high school girls track team was very successful. They placed third at the Indian Relays, third at the Rocket Relays, second at the 275 Conference meet, and third at the District meet. The girls trained for many long hours to achieve these honors. The team was coached by Mr. Raymond Eickhoff. Marlene Walter and Shawna Heits qualified for the state track meet. Marlene's events were the hurdles and the 440 yard run. Shawna was a half-miler and miler. Marlene also received the high point trophy at the Rocket Relays. 12th Running Of Relays

The 12th Annual Bluejay Relays were held on April 15. Grant City came out on top with 99 points. Rock Port finished 10th out of the twenty-two schools participating with 22 points. A queen contest was sponsored again by Speech and Drama Club. Cindy Allumbaugh from Hamburg, Iowa was chosen as queen. Queens pictured top left, left to right: Ellen Berri, Brenda Davidson, Evetta Adams, Shawna Durfey, Julie Jochim, Jan Meir, Cindy Allumbaugh, and Denise Armstrong.

Boys Golf Up to Par

The boys' golf team ended the year with a 5-7 record. They practiced every night after school to improve. This year they also purchased golf shirts. Mr. Steve Herndon coached the squads. The squad consisted of: Row 1, left to right: Coach Herndon, K. Cohen, J. Blasnitz, M. Thompson, M. Walker. Row 2: T. Bauman, B. Brown, M. Lytle, T. Salfrank.

Southern Missouri Fun

Thirty-nine members of the senior class traveled by chartered bus to south Missouri at midnight on May 21. They took a tour of the Shepherd of the Hills Farm and Museum. From there they went to Silver Dollar City. The group spent all afternoon there. Then they returned to Shepherd of the Hills Farm to watch a play. The weary bus of seniors returned home at 7:00 Sunday, May 22. At left: Get out of the way

The Big Event

The class of '77 spent several hours preparing for Senior Class Day, Baccalaureate, and Commencement. Senior Class Day was held on May 25. After this, the seniors weren't required to return to classes. Baccalaureate was May 22. Rev. Gene Swofford gave the sermon.

Commencement—the final event—was held on May 26 in the gym. Dick Buckridge, Assistant to the President at NWMSU was the speaker. Diplomas were presented by the President of the School Board, Mr. Jess Omohundro.

For many seniors, this was the last visit to R.P.H.S. Many memories were made during their school days that will never be forgotten. At right: So lost!
